PARLIAMENT VIOLATES THE LAW AND DECEIVES THE PUBLIC

President of the Parliament of Montenegro and his cabinet will have to show more effort if they really wish to shift the blame for the lack of respect for the law and the dysfunctional RTCG Council onto the non-governmental organisations.

Their parliamentary majority bears all responsibility for the anticipated failure of the public service to function in accordance with the law and fulfil its function of providing objective information to the public during the upcoming presidential campaign.

The parliamentary majority is the only one responsible for the ruin of the public service.

The parliamentary majority is the sole responsible for creating an unnecessary conflict with NGOs and the citizens.

The parliamentary majority bears all responsibility for the fact that all international documents, from the European Parliament Resolution to the reports and analyses of European Commission, OSCE, Freedom House etc. continuously insist that the public service is under dominant influence of political parties.

Instead of preaching to the NGOs, the cabinet of the President should better tell the citizens when will the will of NGOs be respected and appointed new members to the RTCG Council?
