Short description: Traveling exhibition “On the Move” started from Belgrade (Serbia), via Sarajevo (Bosnia and Herzegovina) and Sibenik (Croatia) to Podgorica (Montenegro). Through 22 photographs, the exhibition reflected universal human values, the foundations of the European Union, and questioned what remains of these ideas and ideals, as well as how to live if those are insufficient. The photographs pointed out the burning problem of our society: the absence of freedom, particularly the freedom of movement, which directly results in human inequalities, and reveals the tragic absence of empathy and solidarity. A special catalog was created for the purposes of the exhibition - <https://sharedvalues.me/on-the-move-small.pdf> The content of the virtual museum is available at the following link - <https://sharedvalues.me/posjeti-muzej>. A photography exhibition “On the Move” by Damir Šagolj, Igor Čoko, Sandra Vitaljić, and Goran Boričić was set up at the in Belgrade from 15 May until 22 May 2021 in Endzio Hub, a multifunctional space that initiates conversations about civic and relevant topics; in Sarajevo as part of the international WARM Festival dedicated to war, documentary, and socially engaged photography from 6 to 10 July 2021; in Šibenik at the Fališ Festival from 1 to 4 September 2021; and in Podgorica from 22 June 2022 to 6 July 2022 at Kuslev House Gallery, public gallery run by the City Museum and Galleries.

Short description: Four panel discussions were organized in four countries. The first two and last one were titled "Different paths – shared values" and organized in Belgrade at Engio Gallery, in Podgorica in the Parliament of Montenegro and in Sibenik, at Gallery St. Krsevan. A round table titled 'European values and Bosnia and Herzegovina: From united Europe, through the disintegration of Yugoslavia to the question 'Where is Bosnia and Herzegovina today?' as part of the History Fest in the Sarajevo City Hall. Panel discussions provided an overview upon the development of the European Union, from Schuman declaration, through internal turbulences and transformations, until today's EU as the unique alliance of countries based on values and standards which support the progress of those countries in every respect. The aim was to emphasized that the dialogue and respect of diversities help the European Union to get out of all crises stronger and that it is necessary to foster healthy social values and work on strengthening and linking progressive capacities. Moreover, public discussions served as a primary tool in dissemination of the project results as they promoted the inclusion of citizens in the debate on the 70th anniversary of the Schuman Declaration where there talked about their growing up in a totalitarian/authoritarian system, their vision of the future of 1990, the experience of transition and today's view of the future, especially related to the EU and its values.

Event 5 - Podgorica Final Conference as an international two-panel public event focusing on the 70th anniversary of the Robert Schuman Declaration and 20 years of the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights – this event was not separately organised but integration within the other activities, which did not influence the set objectives.
